CITIZENSHIP

Marion of to-morrow belongs to Hardingites of to-day. Extra-curricular and curricular present us a challenge in learning about our town, state, nation and the world. We learn to appreciate working together.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Literature and language courses foster our cultural vision; music and art create in us a balancing influence needed for happy living; science provides a lab for us to better understand our universe.

LIVING

Happier homes, better business, a contributing future, are in store for us because we have been shown the way to plan wisely.

FUN

Relaxation is a must in our lives; all work and no play does make uninteresting adults. At Harding we have fun going to games, parties, dances, and—classes.

p. 49

Hardingites learn to appreciate the responsibilities and privileges of our democracy in the World Affairs and history classes. Jane Larkin, Joe Thomas, and Ted Simmons, Student Council members, are discussing the problems of city administration with Marion's Mayor Robinson.

We Practice Citizenship

Voting for class officers impresses upon us the important duty we will perform when we are twenty-one.

Student Council Motivates Harding's Activities

The Student Council, which acts as the governing body of the Harding students, is one of the most active organizations in school.

One of the main events, which was organized and carried out by this group, was the annual Homecoming ceremony, which will long remain a memorable evening in the hearts of many Hardingites. The candidates for Homecoming queen were nominated by the senior class and elected by the entire student body. Suzanne Simmons reigned as queen this year with her court composed of Barbara Orr, Beverly Hurley, Marjorie Dearth, and Betty Plantz.

Other memorable events which were directed by the Student Council included bon-fire pep rallies, which were held before some of the games at the stadium, and three talent assemblies, a sophomore assembly in charge of the sophomore members of the Student Council, a junior assembly, in charge of the juniors, and the seniors in charge of a senior assembly. These three assemblies were put together in a combination program, in charge of the entire Student Council, which was held in Edison auditorium, March 14.

Members of the Student Council, also act as guides during the vocational conferences.

Jim Larsen was chosen as leader this year with Ed Morse as assistant. Suzanne Simmons was elected secretary and Beverly Hurley was chosen to take care of the finances.

Student Council advisers are Mrs. Barbara Wilmeth, Mr. Anthony Schiavo, and Mr. Charles Myers.

Scholarship and Character

Election into the National Honor Society is a reward of real merit for a Harding senior because membership is based on scholastic achievement, leadership, character development, and service rendered to the school. To be on the eligible list a student must have entered Harding no later than the beginning of his senior year, and be scholastically in the upper third of his class.

This year there were eighty-seven seniors considered for membership; thirty-nine students, or fifteen per cent of the entire class, selected.

On a numerical basis, students in the upper third of the class and faculty members judge the candidates upon willingness to render service to the school; courteousness shown to all; cooperation in committee, staff, and team work; observance of school regulations; keeping individual pledges and responsibilities to the school promptly; possession of high standards of honesty and reliability; possession of desirable personality traits; influencing others with leadership qualities for the good of all.

Parents and friends were guests at the impressive induction service held in West Hall, April 16th. At this occasion each member was presented with a certificate, signed the National Honor Society membership book, and given the privilege to wear the torch.

Home Room Officers City Officials of Tomorrow

Home Room officers have done an excellent job in carrying out individual tasks this year. The presidents appointed various members of their home rooms to take charge of devotions and to assist the other officers.

Vice-presidents compose the Red Cross Council under the very capable leadership of Miss Genevieve Dobbins. Interesting projects participated in by the entire school is the packing of overseas gift boxes, and the joining of the American Junior Red Cross.

Home room secretaries are busy people for each Tuesday they encourage thrift by assisting in the school banking activities with Mrs. Barbara Willmeth advising.

Treasurers, with a great deal of responsibility placed in their hands, keep busy soliciting for various school functions and drives, selling Herald and Quiver subscriptions, season football tickets, drama and dance admissions, and memberships in various school organizations. Leadership and salesmanship are made practical for all home room officers.

The World in Our Classrooms . . . News Emphasis

Sophomore English classes have been learning about the world as they delve into the pages of their literature unit, "People Overseas." As the size of the world grows smaller through telegraph and the airplane, it becomes more and more important in this Atomic Age that we learn to understand the people of the world. Teachers feel this knowledge will be removed from the field of the unfamiliar and become more realistic if these countries are located on the globe.

Each student in the class reported on some personal experience pertaining to one of these countries.

Through such participation international understanding is promoted and Harding students become better acquainted with people of other lands.

The "American Observer" and "The Weekly Review," used in all history and civic classes at Harding, are worthwhile publications dealing with timely news of the day. One day a week is given to discussion of the news highlights, national and international, and students participate as individual leaders or members of a panel in their respective classes.

FRENCH

"Le Petit Salon," the French Club, is composed of second year French students under the direction of Miss Isabel Freer, mademoiselle in the French classes. The meetings, held once a month during regular class sessions, prove very informative and create an interest in foreign personalities, French people, customs, and culture. Literature used included a French newspaper, "Le Journal," and a novel by the French writer, Jules Verne.

Through the study of the French language, the students receive a background with which to understand French mannerisms and their way of expressing themselves in the country to which some may travel. With the knowledge they acquire they tend to break down barriers which exist between people who do not understand each other.

Officers for this year included Wilma Gobel, president; Steve Lacey, vice-president; Richard Thompson, secretary; Ruth O'Hare, treasurer; Joy Butterworth, reporter.

SPANISH

"El Club de Espanol," the Spanish Club, is composed of second year Spanish students under the supervision of Miss Jane Duffy, Spanish teacher. The students learned much about the language, customs, and legends of our neighbors south of the border.

Officers for this year included Dick Underwood, president; Tom Turner, vice-president; Anne Fellmeth, secretary; Bonnie Schneck, treasurer and Joyce Roberts, reporter.

Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors had an outstanding year with a program which developed in a broad way the Y-Teen purpose, to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of living by Christian principles.

The fine programs and service projects were carried out under the capable leadership of Beverly Hurley, president; Rosalyn Kaelber, vice-president; Sharon Burke, secretary; Sandra Raizman, treasurer; and Colleen Wooten, chaplain; Mrs. Strubel, Miss Eymon, Mrs. Hinaman, and Miss Turner, advisers.

Glenn Johnson and his orchestra played for the colorful Hearts and Hatchet Hop, February 2, in the Edison Gym with a Valentine and George Washington decorative theme prevailing.

Meetings were held the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month. Numbered among the outstanding programs were; one on Charm, another giving the qualifications needed and opportunities offered in Marion for employment, and still another held at the Marion Reserve Power building was a demonstration entitled "Date Bait Snacks." The annual joint social affair with the Hi-Y was a happy occasion.

Girls Learn To Give Their Best in Y-Teens

Pre-Easter services, held in the Nazarene Church the week of March 31-April 4, were planned by Y-Teen-Hi-Y committees on the general theme, "Christ's Trail to the Cross." Co-chairmen opened the morning worship of each day at eight-ten and students of the two organizations spoke challengingly upon a different phase of the theme to large congregations of students and faculty.

As in the past few years, so again this year, the buying of football and basketball programs was made tempting when offered for sale by attractive girls of the organization.

"This is your Harding reporter," began a fifteen minute program broadcast every Friday afternoon at 4:45 over radio station WMRN. The weekly happenings at Harding were reported by two students who were chosen from the speech classes by Mr. William Calvert, speech instructor, to participate in this program. The script was written by journalism students who received their assignments from the two radio editors, Susan Courtright and Maureen Smally. These girls prepared the material for

Senior Dramatists Find Room for One More

The senior play, "Room for One Moore," was presented April 23 in afternoon and evening performances at the Palace Theater. This play depicts the story of a family which adopts three orphans and their problems in adjusting to family life. The cast, under the direction of Mr. William Calvert, was composed of nine girls and six boys. Suzie Simmons acted as student director.

Ushers included Ruth Barnard, Beverly Beveridge, Maxine Cranmer, Betty Christman, Evelyn Cull, Pat Dixon, Anne Fellmeth, Marilyn Green, Pat Kohbarger, Shirley Kyle, Sally McGinnis, Carol Meister, Delores Oiler, Ruth O'Hare, Joyce Payne, Dorothy Rinnert, Janice Stanley, Mary Townsend, Doris Wertz, Sue Courtright, and Janet Kuhner. Miss Stump was faculty adviser.

The Ticket Committee was composed of Bob Gruber, chairman, Dick Hendel, Jim Baker, Nelson Luke, Connie Hammond, Marlene Graham, and Corrine Levien. Miss Winder was the adviser.

The Stage Crew consisted of Bill McCrery, chairman, Paul Geissler, Glen Conklin, Tom Turner, Ron Jerew, Don Ballinger, and Bob Bodell. Mr. Calvert was the adviser.

Those in charge of properties were Diane Umbaugh and Lee Price chairmen, Jean Mather, Maureen Smally, Sue Smith, Pat Bosh, Jean Trickey, Bonnie Schneck, Sandra Askew, Barbara Unger, John Firstenberger, and Martha Butler. Mr. Meyers was the adviser.

The Publicity was handled by Joe Anderson, Peggy Bacon, Ronnie Freese, Bonnie Jones, and Betty Plantz. Miss Foreman was the adviser.

The Make-up Committee included Birdie Borland, chairman, Bob Merchant, JoAnne Hofstetter, Jean Barkley, Shirley Brady and Marilyn Orton. Mrs. Hinaman was the adviser.

Vocational Boys Visit Ford Plant in Detroit

Look out Detroit! Here we come! If you happened to be lurking around Harding High school about 6:00 A.M. on the morning of February 29, these are the shouts you heard voiced by the boys of the vocational department as they set out to invade the Ford Products Company in Detroit and the Edison Museum in Dearborn, Michigan. After a three hours journey with cars and drivers provided by the Short Ford Company of Marion, the boys arrived at their destination, full of enthusiastic anticipation for this exciting day.

The first event on the agenda was a tour through the Edison Museum and Planetarium. Next the boys quenched their manly appetites with lunch in the Ford cafeteria in Detroit. Hunger satisfied, they boarded two busses and were whisked away to the Ford Products Plant. All were duly impressed with the size of this factory which covers two square miles of ground. Inside the plant the assembly line was the big attraction. On it, automobiles are assembled by mass production. After viewing all the inside activities the boys were taken on a sight seeing tour of the plant area. Their guide pointed out the various buildings and explained their special functions.

Accompanying the boys on this excursion were two of their teachers, Mr. Lisak and Mr. McMahan. They join with the boys in remembering the trip as a really big day, full of good times and interesting educational pointers that added greatly to their school work and their part time jobs in the community. Wishing to express their immense appreciation for the trip, the vocational boys wrote letters to the Short Ford Company upon their return, thanking the men who made it possible.

"Red Spider" Sends Chills

This year the Juniors made their dramatic contribution in the form of a thrilling three-act mystery, "The Red Spider." The play, presented on December 5 and 6 at Edison, created quite a sensation in the halls of Harding. For weeks students queried "Who is the Red Spider?" Not even the cast knew until one week before the performance; the only hint was the clever Red Spiders in every room. The plot of the play takes place on an old Carolina mountain estate, turned by a wealthy doctor, Elwin Falor, into a rest home for nervous patients. Everything is quite restful until letters from the Red Spider appear, warning everyone to leave the estate by midnight. Believing the letters to be a practical joke, no one left and the Red Spider began his murderous work.

The climax came when the Red Spider was identified as Zeb, the old mountaineer, played by Stan Ruggles.

During the course of the play a love affair evolves between Ralph, a young reporter, Dan Brickley, and Valerie, the doctor's daughter, played by Carol Sparks on Wednesday, and Georgeann Zuck on Thursday night. Excellent character portrayals were made by Pat Senff as Mrs. Piney, the mountain woman; Nora Maginn as Mammy. Loyette Stricklin played the nurse, Marilyn Turner, Mrs. Stecker; Kelly Shelton, Tony; and Joe Donithen, Jack. Heartiest congratulations to the cast for their outstanding performance, Mr. Calvert for his excellent directing and to the committees who worked so hard behind the scenes.

Props and Q's Lead Tomorrows Actors to Success

Actor, artist, seamstress, make-up artist, handyman. There is a job for everyone in Props and Q's, the dramatic organization at Harding. This club meets monthly to study dramatics, with programs being presented by members of the group. This year the club has only 81 members as compared with approximately 200 members in previous years. Membership was limited because it is believed that more can be accomplished with a smaller group, those really interested in acting or play production. Selection of members was made from a list of 150 applicants who were rated on previous experience, interest in dramatics, and scholarship.

Capably leading the club in its activities were the officers: Harold Alexander, president; Jim Arnold, vice-president; Carol Sparks, secretary; and Pam Smyth, treasurer. Mr. William Calvert, faculty adviser, guided the members, and lended a helping hand whenever necessary.

Two assembly programs were presented by Props & Q's. The first of which was a play entitled "Ghost of a Show." In this comedy Dan Brickley portrayed the ghost of "Willie Shakespeare." Others in the cast were Steve Lytle, Joyce Payne, Marilyn Sifritt, Joe Anderson, Connie Hammond, Shirley Kyle, Bob Thatcher, Bob Gruber and Carol Sparks. The other assembly was in the form of a Christmas program.

Socially speaking, the big events were a Gold Diggers' dance held in March, and a Spring Picnic.

Paint Daubers Splatter Colors and Harmony

Sitting in the classrooms of Harding are many talented artists. Once a month during the school year some of these paint and pallet prodigies leave their math and English and get together to share their common interest—Art. These people are members of the Harding Art Club. This year there are fifteen members in the group. Membership is open to any interested Harding student, whether or not he is in the art class.

This year the meetings consisted of programs of a varied nature. During one of these meetings, a missionary from Mexico discussed the art of that interesting country. The big social event for the group was a picnic at the Mt. Gilead State Park in May, the merry month for social gatherings.

Officers of the club who inspired members with their excellent leadership were: Jim Madden, who called meetings to order; he was assisted by Dave Doss vice-president; Janet Frew who kept the records; Don Beaver, the safeguarder of the treasury. Doris Southward was in charge of social activities while Miss Jeannine Dill, teacher of art at Harding, advised the budding artists.

Strike Up the Band with Music on the March

Rain nor snow daunted the marching precision of the Harding Band which this group prepared for athletic contests well in advance under the capable direction of Mr. Homer Huffman and Mr. George Lane. These musicians hold daily practice beginning as early as August.

A capacity crowd enjoyed the annual concert April 30 in the Ohio Theater; the program included classical and modern selections. Again this year the Band participated in the Buckeye League Festival held April 4 in Bowling Green, Ohio. Many hours of practice made the musical aspirants ready to play an important role in the contest. Time did not hang heavy on their hands, for members of the Band, in addition to the games of the gridiron, played at basketball games, assemblies, and civic affairs, including patriotic parades. Twenty-one "five semester" members received Band letters at the annual banquet held January 30 in the State Street Junior High dining-room.

Musicians leading the activities for the year were: Eddie Porter, president; Nelson Luke, vice-president and student director; Barbara Clements, secretary-treasurer.

Melodious Strings Blend in Sweet Symphony

One of the outstanding organizations at Harding that plays an important part in keeping us in tune is the school orchestra which practices diligently under the direction of Mr. Homer Huffman.

The annual concert held at Edison March 6, featured classical and semi-classical numbers beautifully played. The District contest was held April 5 at Bascom. Many fine orchestras afforded competition. This year seven members of the orchestra joined with outstanding musicians from all over Ohio in forming a state orchestra at Otterbein College, February 22. In the District Auditions at Tiffin March 29, eight of the twelve instrumental music entrants were rated superior.

The "five-semester" pin awards were received by twelve members of the orchestra at the annual banquet held at State Street, January 30.

A note of musical refinement climaxed the year at the graduation exercises when the triumphant strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" were heard for the processional and recessional.

Officers for this year include Steve Lacey, president; Wilma Goebel, vice-president; Lennette Smith, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Wolf, librarian; Murray Leeper, librarian and student leader.

"May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" Is Our Song

"Music hath charm that doth soothe" can truthfully be said of the music of the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. L. G. Jones. Wherever this musical favorite appears people are amazed with the excellent performances. The choir is composed of seniors, juniors, and one sophomore and meets every day during the second period in East Hall to practice their wide variety of arrangements which include sacred numbers, novelty tunes, and Spirituals.

January 20th at the Calvary Church the choir made their debut for '52 making such a magnificent appearance in their maroon robes with the white stoles. Many other appearances followed at local social functions, clubs, churches, and the Palace Theater in the spring assembly with the Junior Choir sharing honors. Naturally the highlight on their agenda was the annual concert in May.

Those who kept this group in tune this year were: president, Jim Russell; secretary, Birdie Borland; librarian, Dave McCreight; and accompanist, Lennette Smith.

"Whistle While You Work and Sing a Happy Tune"

If sometime during the year you chanced to listen outside East Hall sixth period and heard a melodious quality floating out on the sound waves you might have thought it was the radio of the PA in the office but if you opened the door you found 120 voices producing this lovely effect. Your attention would be focused upon the man whose efforts were rapidly improving and preparing voices to take their places in the A Cappella next year. His name, you guessed it, Mr. Jones, whose ability combined with hard work not only has trained the Junior Choir but also has created the A Cappella, a big sister to the Junior Choirsters.

Blended voices of the Quartet, composed of Gene Greer, Paul Foster, Ben Bechtle, and Murray Leeper, were a musical treat on several occasions. Anita Porter helped keep the group on pitch with her lovely accompaniment. The group made a fine appearance in the assembly program, May 2 at the Palace Theater.

It's a Man's World on Tuesday Night at the YMCA

Members of the Hi-Y Clubs have been challenged by the opportunity this year to build a higher regard for citizenship with a year round program providing laboratory experience in practical politics. Harding clubs joined other Hi-Y groups in the state as Ohio became the 27th to adopt the Y.M.C.A. Youth and Government Program. The members are given an opportunity for educational experience in public issues, debates of public policies, drafting of legislation, and participation in the process of government through Model Legislature.

Each of the Harding Hi-Y clubs has a committee to study and work on the program; from each committee two boys were selected to attend the Pre-Legislative Training Conference, at Ohio Wesleyan, March 8, and the Model Legislature held in the State Capitol, April 25, 26, 27. Adult leaders of the high school groups are: seniors, Rev. Harrison Ludwig; juniors, Vern Hinsel, Waldo, Ohio; sophomores, William Calvert; Y.M.C.A. consultant, Marvin Ludwig; sponsors of both conferences, Y-Mens Club local Y.M.C.A.

At the Pre-Legislative Conferences, held at five universities throughout Ohio, Harding received honors with the selection from our delegation of Joe Thomas, nominee for governor; John Ashworth, Alternate to Senator; John White, Representative; Dick Snyder, Alternate to the Representative.

Hi-Y fellows adopted the following goals as their platform: to develop a stronger democracy, to strengthen the individual and improve the quality of politics, to en-

Quiver Executives Work Hard?

As you open the "Atomic Age" cover of your '52 Quiver it is the hope of the entire staff that you will catch the theme which follows carefully the senior class motto, "To-day we learn, to-morrow we earn." This has been a full time assignment for the crowd at the west end of first floor corridor for not only has an entirely new approach been made in which the community theme was interwoven, but a lot of leg work has gone in to the taking of pictures throughout Marion, the community that stands ready to offer you a position when you seek it upon the completion of your education.

The Quiver Boat Assembly which opened the drive for subscriptions cleverly took us in song, setting, and lingo to the shores of the Mississippi. Don Ballinger, the entire staff, and the adviser, Miss Stafford have spent a lot of thought in trying to bring you the book for '52 and from cover to cover they hope you like it.

Harding in the News... Herald Staff in Action

Accurately and interestingly, Harding history and future events are recorded by enthusiastic journalists. Each Tuesday morning evidences the hard work these hard working folks have accomplished.

Joe Thomas and Diane Umbaugh, co-editors this year, outdid themselves to bring papers of original ideas and Joyce Roberts was feature editor, a post original with the '52 publication.

Each issue contained an authentic report of the sports events, and the article "Speaking of Sports" which immediately caught the eye was a reading must, edited in a praiseworthy manner by Harold Alexander, Sports Editor.

Jim Arnold, business manager kept the books and Joe Anderson did a bang up job as advertising manager; these two positions have to click in order to finance the paper successfully. Bill Monroe, with the capable assistance of Dorothy Yocum, was in charge of circulation, and Peggy Bacon and Nancy Pendleton, as exchange editor and assistant, saw that other schools had an opportunity to check up on happenings at Harding. We all know that the Herald would not be the success that it is without the efforts of the reporters in the journalism classes, the skill of the typists and the capable and understanding help of the excellent and talented adviser, Miss Lucile Foreman.

Fish Eyes Frog Legs

"Jeepers, creepers," is just one of the many remarks you might have heard while passing the biology lab during the past year as the students were making new discoveries along the plant and animal line.

Further knowledge was imparted by the teachers, Mr. Bain, Mr. Keel, and Mr. Auble, whose interpretations of the textbook and of personal experiences made biology one of the most interesting courses given at Harding.

Twice a week on designated days, classes, made up of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, were held in the laboratory where students were taught the use of the microscope, dissection of plants and animals, hereditary make-up, and many other observations. The remaining three days were used as class discussions of laboratory work, and recitation from the textbook.

About once every two weeks, tests were given which were never too difficult because the interest provided in each section always taught each student something new.

Projects, such as blood typing and raising of plants and animals, were chosen by biologists in Mr. Bain's classes to be completed by the end of the year.

During the spring months field trips helped to give closer observation of Mother Nature and her mysterious ways.

Future Engineers Undertake Physics and "Irig"

Fourth year math students, Isaac Newtons and Galileos of tomorrow, organized into a club this year entirely of masculine membership, for the purpose of furthering their knowledge of mathematics. The club meets every two weeks at the home of one of its members. Under the direction of their adviser, Raymond Tata, they have made a study of engineering instruments, their '52 speciality. Their important social event will be the annual outing after graduation. Charters for this year's interests have been: Ronnie Freese, president; Ted Price, vice-president; and Dick Coulson, secretary-treasurer.

Many courses are offered at Harding that will prepare us for better living; home economics is one of these. Attending a tea at the home of the president of the medical auxiliary, Mrs. Smyth are Wayne, Regina, Dave and Marilyn.

All library assistants are members of the Library Council. These girls are on hand during the different periods of the day to charge and receive books and perform various other tasks as aids to Miss Moore, Harding's librarian. A visitor in the library might find one of the girls dusting shelves while another would be posting material on the bulletin boards and still another would be putting away returned books. Each girl is responsible for one shelf which she is pleased to present to the public eye because of its neatness. Among the various jobs for the typists are letters and book orders. Vocational reading, a project for which members of the council have prepared material in previous years, was not carried forth this year because of the increased enrollment and lack of space in the present building. However many materials were placed at the disposal of the students who really went seeking vocational information.

Our sincere appreciation is extended to the girls on the council and to Miss Moore for all the time and energy devoted to making our use of the library easier and more beneficial. Congratulations for a job well done go to the excellent slate of officers for this year: Pat Wilson, president; Shirley Fetter, vice-president; Beverlee Friedel, who called the roll; and Betty Bowden who was in charge of the money. There were 18 girls on the Council this year.

Industries Here We Come

"Today we learn, tomorrow we earn," the senior class motto, expresses the ideal for "City Senior's Day in Industry," a program tried for the first time in Marion this year. This event, sponsored by the Industrial Leaders' Conference of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, featured visitation of Marion industries in an effort to acquaint the workers of tomorrow with vocational opportunities in this community.

Participating in the project were all Harding and St. Mary High School seniors, teachers from both schools and many Marion businessmen. The choice of industries visited was made by vote of the seniors at the two schools. The Marion Power Shovel Company and the Marion Industries Division of the Motor Products Corporation were the most popular in the heavy industries group, while the Quaker Oats Company and the Fulfillment Corporation of America were selected from the lighter industries.

At 9:00 on the day of January 24 all seniors arrived at the Marion Industries to be taken on a guided tour that they might observe the manufacture of automobile parts. Next the students visited the Quaker Oats Company where "Ken-L Ration" is made. At 11:00 the seniors took in a demonstration of office methods and machines at the Fulfillment Corporation of America. A noon luncheon at Moira Hall featured Robert Fay as the principle speaker. He talked on the importance of industries to the community. Robert O'Connor was master of ceremonies for the occasion and Mr. Dickey, Mr. Gabler and Reverend Father Spickerman gave brief talks. The entire afternoon was spent touring the Marion Power Shovel Company. As an added feature a movie was shown in the assembly room picturing shovels in action.

Was this experiment a success? It is the general opinion of both teachers and students that much was gained by actually seeing what positions will be available to us when we graduate. We realize more clearly the variety of job opportunities and the advantages of working in a smaller city like Marion. It is hoped that a bigger, better student-industry day will take place next year and that it will become an annual affair in Marion.

Charming Chefs Learn Cooking for Healthful Future

The way to man's heart is through his stomach, or so the old saying goes. With this idea in mind many Harding girls take classes in cooking to prepare themselves for their future roll as homemakers.

Beginning in their sophomore year the girls learn to cook dishes planned around one of the basic foods such as milk or eggs. Then they progress to preparing and serving complete breakfasts, lunches and dinners. This year the senior cooking students prepared several buffet luncheons. During the Christmas season the sophomore student cooks treated the first year sewing classes to a party.

Not limiting their study to cooking, the girls are also interested in related fields of home management. A course on china and silverware was studied by the senior girls. They also planned dream kitchens that could be built into their own homes.

Mrs. Drake and Miss Dobbins are the teachers of this useful subject. They have led the girls in practical experiences that will make their futures much brighter.

Dress Making Is An Easy Lesson in Home Economics

Cecile Chapman, Hattie Carnegie, Fath Dior, Lilly Dache! Do all these famous designers attend Harding High? Well, hardly, but you might think so after seeing the fascinating creations worn by some of the girls. These are the girls who study sewing under the capable direction of Mrs. Drake and Miss Dobbins. They learn to whip up dreamy wardrobes all the way from selecting the style and material to sewing on the last button. Outfits completed this year ranged from the simple blouses and skirts made by the sophomores to the neat tailored coats and suits sported by the senior girls. During Education Week some of the girls modeled their creations in a showing at the Singer Sewing Company.

Realizing that clothes do not make the woman, emphasis is placed, in these classes, on the qualities that make a charming woman, such as personality and manners. The older girls also took a course in home nursing and studied a chapter on family marriage relations.

Putting to use the many pointers they have learned in the sewing classes these girls are prepared to make life much more enjoyable for themselves and their families in the years to come.

First-year typists work hard to acquire speed and accuracy.

We Figure and Type With All Our Might

Typing and bookkeeping classes at Harding are training courses in commercial fields for those students who aspire to take positions in the work-a-day business world. Commercial students, better known now as office practice folks, begin their training in the freshman year with "J.B.T." In the sophomore year it is the fundamentals in bookkeeping, with specialization offered in the typing and shorthand skills added to the store of knowledge in the junior year. As seniors, techniques of secretarial work are perfected and students actually are on the job during the afternoons with the understanding help of their vocational supervisor, Mr. Russell Dunlap, getting them over the hard places. Many have their permanent posts at commencement time.

Making the balance check is the headache of these bookkeeping students.

Grade Cards Roll off School Printing Press

Apprentices who are enrolled in the Harding printing classes compose the membership of the Printing Club. Practical knowledge is forthcoming, for the novices become educated in type setting, design job layouts, paper cutting and press operation. Each student keeps a workbook throughout the year which explains the differences between letterpress and offset printing, kinds of paper, and proof-reader's marks as well as samples of original jobs.

Printing for the school is done by these boys and saves Harding considerable money. Grade cards, posters, programs, dance programs and banquet menus, office forms and senior name cards roll off the press.

No Flat Tires Here

Harding's Future Tradesmen of America hold a regular meeting once a week as vocational boys under the direction of Mr. Emil Lisak. The boys were grateful for the leadership of Mr. Donald Zuspan before his unexpected death. Next year the plan is to combine the junior and senior membership into one club.

Highlighting the social season is the annual picnic held at Upper Sandusky at which time junior and senior clubs frolic as one.

On February 22, this year, the State Vocational Club or "VIC," as it is often called, held an all-day meeting in the Union Hall at Ohio State University for the purpose of adopting a constitution. Jerry Austin and Wayne Mahaffey were delegates from Harding. Kenneth Stanley, president; Jerry Austin, vice-president; Harold Scheitler, secretary; and Dick Rech, treasurer were the welders of action for the F.T.'s this year.

Junior Mechanics.

Any boy who is taking shop work or auto mechanics, has passing grades and possesses an interest in auto mechanics may join the Junior American Mechanics Club, which is composed of junior boys, organizing primarily for fellowship. Under the direction of Mr. Lisak and their officers: Ben Yokoyama, president; Sam DeLong, vice-president; and Bill Bailey, secretary-treasurer the J.A.M.'s have enjoyed many good times this year.

Secretaries and Salesmen Gain Experience on the Job

Students who take distributive education compose the membership of this senior club under the direction of Mr. Anthony Schiavo and the sponsorship of the State Department of Education. Through this organization, a better understanding of the business field is fostered at the monthly meetings which are usually divided into business, program and entertainment hours.

Activities of this club include a tax stamp collection, drives for various charities, and an annual Managers Appreciation Banquet held near the first of the year. Managing the business of the club this year were: Leonard Schlecht, president; Jane Swartz, vice-president;

Marilyn Brady, secretary; and Norma Guliuzza, treasurer.

Twenty-eight girls who attend classes beginning at eight o'clock in the morning, and are employed in Marion business offices in the afternoon, have organized themselves this year as Shoshoneans under the leadership of Annabelle Young, president; Norma Calbert, vice-president; Barbara Orr, secretary; and Pauline Weston, treasurer; with Mr. Russell Dunlap advising.

A social hour is held every six weeks either at school or in the home of a member and the highlight of the season is the Employer-Employee Banquet at the Harding Hotel in the spring.

With A Vivo, With A Vivo With A Vivo, Vivo, Vum, Hey!

The night is typical of autumn and a harvest moon is coming through the trees. Darkness surrounds the stadium; a dim hum of voices arises; the sudden blast of a trumpet emerges, and the murmuring voices become distinct. Suddenly there is a flash of light and a roaring shout from the crowd. Don't be alarmed! It's only the Hardingites staging a bonfire and pep rally before an important game. Cheerleaders arrive on the scene and a group of band members strike up the "Fight Song." Pandemonium prevails and the rally is underway. Marion citizens are familiar with this high-light of the season when athletic spirits run ablaze with the sports.

But this is not the only time such enthusiasm prevails. As soon as "Old Man Winter" brings football to a close, he ushers in the season of basketball at the Coliseum, where cage games call forth the same enthusiasm.

The Palace Theater is in danger of the walls tumbling in when cheerleaders take over following the regular assembly time and lead a roaring Harding pep session, with speeches and inspiration from the coaches and team members.

Due to necessity, a few times the cheerleaders have done a rousing battle cry in leading students in yells over the PA system. Cheerleaders are posted in all the halls and students resound the walls from their home rooms. This will be a thing of the past when the new school is really ours.

Girls Are On the Ball in Athletic Association

G.A.A., an organization to encourage girls to become more interested in sports and to develop a high degree of sportsmanship, has a high qualification for membership. A candidate must earn 25 points to qualify for membership and pass a test on the G.A.A. constitution. She gets points for participation in certain sports; 150 points earns a letter; 220, a pin.

Exciting tournaments were played this year in volley ball, basketball, and ring toss. Ten girls participated in a state tournament, and all the members with their adviser, Mrs. Topliff, enjoyed picnics, potlucks, dances, and parties. Leaders were: Jean Trickey, president; Dorothy West, vice-president; Marlene Walters, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Rinnert, prizes and awards; Nancy Curren, publications; Sandra Askew, social chairman.

H. H. S. Presidents Pass and Run Up Winning Tallies

An excellent team, and an enthusiastic cheering section were gridiron partners of this year's football season. Who could forget the breathless anticipation before a game, the thrill of a touchdown, the celebration afterwards! Yes, as alumni we will recall the football season as one of the most exciting times of the year.

Let's go back to the opening game. Remember, Harding suffered a disappointing defeat at Columbus West? The score was 19 to 7. The Prexies quickly made up for this loss the next week-end, changing Bowling Green's 12-0 lead to a 19-12 win for the Presidents in the last five minutes of play. The following Friday our boys defeated a very powerful Columbus Central team, 26-19, in one of the best games of the season. There was a 27-27 tie with Fostoria, and Lima South was defeated by a safety, making an 8-6 score. Traveling to Findlay the next Thursday, we took the Blue and Gold by an overwhelming 40-20 score. Our second defeat of the season came at Ashland; the favored Harding eleven were overcome by a 19 to 6 tally. In the customary "Homecoming rain and snow" we won over Columbus South with a 7-6 score.

At Sandusky, the powerful Redmen upset Harding with a 39 to 29 victory. In the final game of the season, Harding dropped a hard fought championship battle to Fremont with a 32-19 score. This defeat meant the loss of the Buckeye League title for the Presidents.

Our record for the year is 5 wins, 4 losses, 1 tie, but behind these figures is all the time, effort and sportsmanship the boys and coaches put forth to make the Presidents a team of which the whole school is proud. Leading the Presidents this year were co-captains Dick Hendel and Tom McClain. Aided by backs, Russell, Brady, Bibler; and linemen, Kasotis, Taylor, D'Eramo, Larsen and Morse. These men of the gridiron brought another football season to a successful close.

At the annual football banquet 11 seniors, 12 juniors and 2 sophomores were presented letters; senior manager, Jack Niles, was rewarded with a letter. We were not alone in recognizing the abilities of our players. Tats Taylor and George Kasotis placed on the Toledo Blade's All-Buckeye League first team; Tom McClain, Dick Hendel, Tony D'Eramo and Jim Russell received honorable mention. Tats also received votes in "First and Ten" magazines' all-Ohio poll.

5th Annual Homecoming

On the cold, drizzly night of November 2nd the fifth annual Homecoming ceremonies of Harding High School were performed before the opening kick-off at the Harding Stadium for the pleasure of a sparse crowd of loyal students and alumni.

As the shiny, new convertibles drove slowly around the oval, all eyes of the spectators were following the lovely Queen and her court and momentarily bad weather was overshadowed by the beauty of the girls.

Suzie Simmons and her court were escorted to the center of a large heart formed by the Harding Band. There Suzie was crowned with a coronet of yellow mums and presented a bouquet of mums by her escort, Jim Arnold, a member of the team. Attending the queen were Betty Plantz, Barbara Orr, Beverly Hurley, and Marjorie Dearth who were escorted by Eddie Porter, Joe Thomas, Tom Tatham, and Nelson Luke.

After the singing of the sweetheart song by Birdie Borland, the queen and her court were seated in a special stand to watch Harding win over Columbus South, 7-6.

A victory celebration at Co-Ed, followed by open-house at Suzie's, brought the homecoming to a happy close and the Student Council could well be proud of the occasion.

Proud Chests Display Harding Letters

Those "he-men" we observe sporting H's around the halls of Harding are none other than the honorary members of the Varsity H club. These H's have been earned by participating in any of the following sports; football, basketball, baseball, track, and cross country.

In football, a boy must play twenty quarters to earn his letter; it is required that a player must participate only a few minutes in a quarter to be credited. If he has played for three years and not won a Varsity letter he is presented a service letter. A basketball player must be active in half of the quarters of all the games.

A trackman must earn twenty points to receive a letter by placing or winning in dual, triangular, and district meets.

A letter in baseball is presented to the infielders and outfielders for playing half the innings, to the catcher for one third of the innings, and to the pitcher for a complete game.

Mr. Dewey Bohyer, Director of Harding Athletics, has served through the year as a great inspiration to Harding sports lovers!

Prexies Tie for Second in Buckeye League

Harding "Prexies" showed undying spirit and determination to win this year. Our varsity record stands at nine wins and eight losses by virtue of a forfeit from Findlay. We ranked second in the Buckeye League with a 5-5 record. Harding tallied 839 points to top the 829 of the opponents. High scoremen this season were Paul Colby with 239 points and Jim Russel with 175. Harding drew Mt. Vernon for the district tournament and was defeated 63-49 on the cage floor of the Ohio State Coliseum.

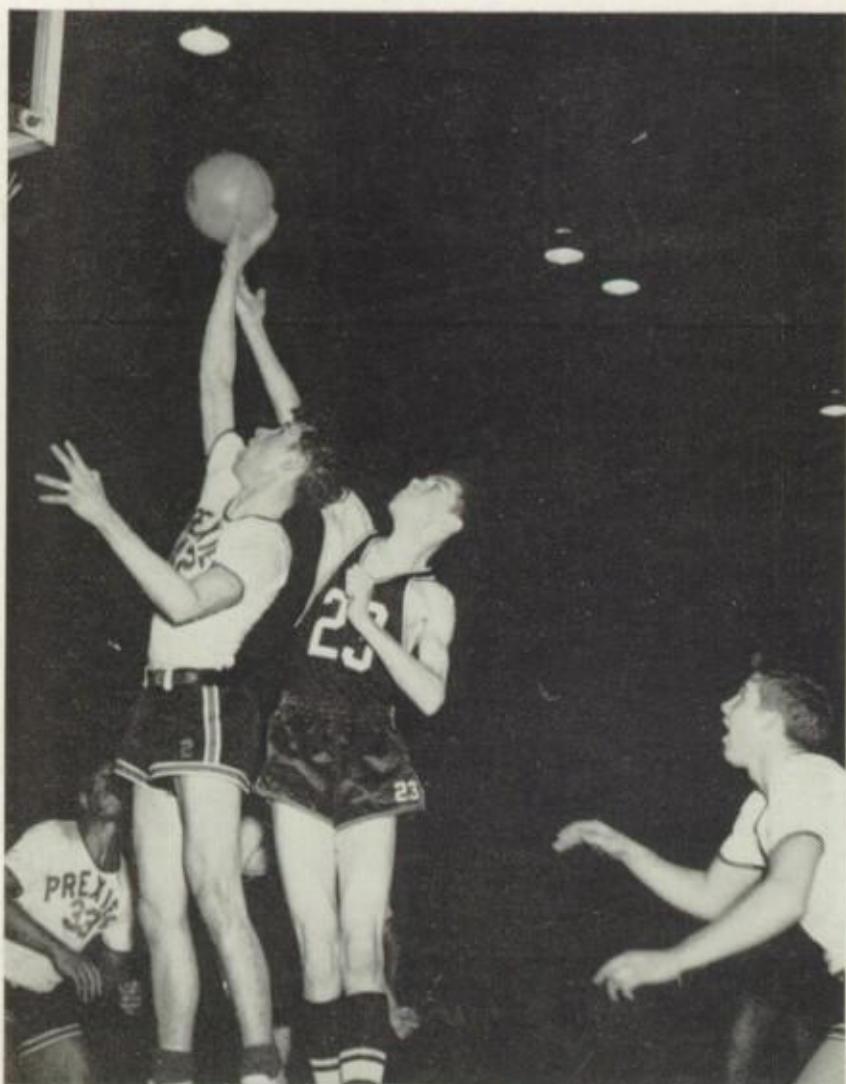

Paul Colby was selected for the All-Buckeye League first team which was picked by the coaches; he also received a first team berth on the Toledo Blade's choice for All-Buckeye League. Jim Russel received a position on the second team of Buckeye League and the second team picked by the Toledo Blade.

The Vice-Presidents showed great improvement as the season progressed and they should be stellar performers in the future. Their season ended with a 5-9 record in league play. Leading scorers were Charles Emmons with 130 points and Bill Smiley with 91 points. Four overtime games provided thrills for the spectators and of these Harding won three.

John Ashworth finally slowed down long enough to pose . . . John holds state record for the two mile cross country.

Marathon Men Race to Victory

Harding's Cross Country team had another victorious season. Under the able coaching of Kenny Somerlot the team won its third straight cross country championship, ran its 22 straight dual meet without a defeat, its second straight unbeaten season, won the Central District A.A.U. title, and came out eighth in the state meet. Eight dual meets and one triangular meet were participated in during the season.

John Ashworth set a new record of 10:26 on the State Course at Columbus, a Country Club record of 10:35.6, and the new Central District record at Columbus of 10:32.2. John Ashworth, Ted Price, Frank Green, and Dick Coulson received gold medals for finishing in the top 10 men of the Amateur Athletic Union meet.

The Lions Club entertained the top 10 men with a banquet; this is the first time the runners of the cinder path have been feted in this fashion.

May 2 under the lights at the Stadium before 600 track fans the Prexy thinclads raced to 77 points to win over a field of six other schools thereby copping the beautiful trophy.

Greeting Today With Pleasure

Facing Tomorrow With Confidence

MR. GABLER—Simple duty really did have no place for fear as our Principal plunged courageously into administrative duties at Harding and the interesting planning for the new building. He met with teachers to recommend equipment for the modern high school we will have, he journeyed to other cities to inspect educational plants but never was he too busy to help us instill confidence in ourselves to greet well our to-days and the to-morrows. A sincere thank-you.

MR. DICKEY, our Superintendent, and the faithful Board of Education had time for little relaxation this year for often did they burn the midnight oil as they planned for the beautiful new building made possible by the voters of Marion in their appropriations. The plans of the architect started activity for these busy citizens that will keep them on the move until the time of the dedication of the New Harding High in the fall of '53. Because of the progressive ideas of you interested men our school life is made much fuller. We shall be ever grateful for your interest in the youth of Marion.

MR. DON ZUSPAN—"Well done thy good and faithful servant" are words from the greatest of all Books that give us a real challenge as we think of the sadness we shared this year when Don laid aside his tools and left us to join the Master Workman. His honest, industrious life filled continually with the practical Christianity he was proud to practice will keep him ever in our hearts. Our lives are indeed better for this fine association.

MR. LAWRENCE DALY—"When Duty whispers low thou must, the youth replies I can". Is it not true of this first semester history teacher who said yes when informed a position of real service to the youth of the Marion schools was calling him? This alumnus of Harding High has an enthusiasm for helping others to help themselves, an attribute which should serve him well as he goes forth as the Director of Pupil Personnel. Good luck in your work always.

Switch Your Tassel

The crowded Colliseum suddenly becomes very silent and quickly we take our places in the long line of capped and gowned classmates. Following an inspirational address the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" give each one his cue and we begin to take the last steps we will take together as the class of '52. Yes here it is, the long awaited event—Graduation Night.

It seems like only yesterday that we were freshmen at Edison, Central, and Vernon. Nelson Luke, Ronnie Freese, Ted Price, and Janice Stanley capably guided us at Edison. Our dramatic success was "The Freshman Party." Before the footlights at Central we staged, "But Now There's Beauford," "Sure As You're Born," and "Junior Prom." We chose Don McDaniel, Carol Sparks, Beverly Hurley, and Marilyn Fetter as officers. At Vernon Jim Larson led us with Jim Arnold, Pam Smyth, and Gene Gamble assisting and "Sisters Under the Skin" and "Life of the Party" took away our dramatic jitters.

For the first time in the history of Harding, underclassmen joined hands in defense coming from the three junior high schools. With our class officers Don McDaniel, Tom McClain, Beverly Hurley, and Marilyn Sifritt we really launched with serious intentions when we selected "To-day we learn, to-morrow we earn" as our class motto. Throughout our school years our class colors, rose and silver, will be decorative in all festive occasions.

Our Junior year blossomed forth with our production "Up to Your Ears" which was acclaimed a dramatic success. Heading the class were Tom Tatham, Eddie Porter, Margie Dearth, and Ronnie Freese. The high-light of our social life was to play host to the happy seniors at the annual Junior Senior Prom May 29 at the Hi-Way Roll-arena.

The fall of '51 we began the year of years, our Senior year. After a heated campaign our balloting elected Eddie Porter, Nelson Luke, Colleen Wooten, and Robbie Miller. The Homecoming was thrilling for everyone especially the Queen and her Court. Don Ballinger and Pam Smyth burned midnight oil to prepare the Quiver while Joe Thomas and Diane Umbaugh brought us news regularly through the Herald. To climax an eventful year our class presented a two act play "Room for One More" directed by Mr. William Calvert. Yes, when the tassel is switched to the left side and we venture out to meet the future with a diploma in our hand we will never forget you, Our Alma Mater, and the wonderful experiences gained with you.

Congratulations

Life Is What We Make It

Our junior class motto inspires us to make a commendable record for ourselves that will call forth self admiration as well as the praise of Harding High. Aqua and silver were chosen as our class colors, the white rose is our class flower, and this year we proudly purchased class rings.

During our years at Harding we have succeeded in establishing fine records in scholarship and athletics, as well as taking an active part in various school organizations. Our class mystery, "The Red Spider," was a dramatic success and the Junior-Senior Prom a long to be remembered social occasion.

Several junior boys have established especially fine records in football, basketball, and track and we are proud of the varsity letters that have been won.

In the scholastic and musical fields we have not taken back seats; members of our class have played well in the band, orchestra and assemblies. Fine talent came forth in the assembly program given by enthusiastic members of our class at the Palace Theater, February 15.

Busy people as leaders of our class this year have been: Elwin Falor, president; Jim Chapman, vice-president; Jane Larkin, secretary; and Bill Winters, treasurer.

We are proud of our achievements during our first two years at Harding and we are looking forward to our senior year with a feeling of eagerness for we feel confident that our senior year will be the best yet and we will keep remembering that life is what we make it and the last class to be graduated from Harding High, West Church Street should be one that leaves a good record.

The Future of Our Country Is Us.

Our Sophomore year was full of surprises as well as some confusion. It took us a while to get acquainted and to find our way around. It was also rather hard to become accustomed to being the youngest again, as we had been the leaders last year in our respective junior highs. Soon, however, we began to find our places and to feel more at home.

As our leader for the year we chose Marvin McFann with Ted Simmons as his assistant. Our secretary was Mary Jo Swambaugh and Marcia Jones was selected to take charge of the finances. For our class colors we selected maroon and white and our flower is the white carnation. Inspiration, motivation, and direction for scholastic endeavor should be provided by the motto selected by our class: "In the Future of our Youth lies the Future of our Country."

Most of us found the school work harder than we had been used to, but with some hard work and a change of study habits we found that we could do it. After the first bit of confusion began to wear off we started to take part in school activities. The girls became interested in Y-Teens and G.A.A. Props and Q's, Junior Choir, Orchestra, and Band were organizations which interested everyone. The boys were especially interested in such athletic activities as football, basketball, and track. Spectator enthusiasm ran high and we feel sure that some of our boys will be stars by the time they are juniors and seniors. Some of our group tossed timidity to the four winds in a talent assembly which was presented February 29.

It has been a hard pull but we have made it this far and we are eagerly looking forward to our years ahead at Harding. If present plans progress, we will initiate the new Harding High in the fall of '53.

BEST WISHES FOR A HAPPY, AND SUCCESSFUL LIFE

Everyone wishes you good luck. Everyone also attempts to give you good advice. May we add . . . Whether your green pastures are far away, or here in Marion, your success and happiness will be assured if you treat everyone as "people." We like Marion . . . want to see it grow and prosper. Your help in achieving this aim is cordially invited.

GREATNESS and LOYALTY

By and large, any degree of Greatness attained by an industrial organization is dependent upon that degree of Loyalty its employees feel toward their Company. Our management strives constantly to cultivate in our people a deep sense of satisfaction in becoming part of the MARION POWER SHOVEL family—

By selecting as employees people who will be a credit to the Company in all their contacts with the Community and in their personal relationships with fellow employees.

By training them to fit their jobs so that they may develop and grow with knowledge and experience gained from friendly, intelligent and competent supervision.

By advancing them on merit to greater responsibilities based on the principle of promotion from within the Company wherever this is possible.

By offering to them and their families the advantages of the MARION POWER SHOVEL COMPANY Group Insurance Plan.

By seeking at all times to improve working conditions and develop human relations to the end that MARION POWER SHOVEL may deservedly enjoy a reputation that will attract and hold the most capable employees in our type of business.

Huber Manufacturing Company, one of Marion's oldest and largest industrial firms, offers a limited number of high school graduates of 1952—unusually fine career opportunities under the best of working conditions. An equipment builder since 1863, and an outstanding leader in the road machinery industry for many years, Huber maintains its manufacturing operations in a large, modern building that ranks with the best in the city. Here, factory employees work with the latest equipment . . . amid clean and healthful surroundings.

We cordially invite all 1952 graduates to investigate the many advantages which Huber affords its employees in both manufacturing and office positions. And, we're pleased to have this opportunity to congratulate you on your scholastic achievements. May the future be bright and successful for all of you.

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 1952

You are beginning your real educational career in mighty interesting times. However, we believe that a few old basic precepts will still apply, as far as the building of a successful future is concerned.

For those of you who have eyes to see and ears to hear we offer these suggestions:

"First—Pick your objective—know where you're going."

"Ambition is a virtue"

Second—Plan your attack—method of attainment.

"Plans are the most effective weapon ever placed in the hands of man."

Third—Work, eat, sleep, drink and live your plan.

"There is no substitute for ingenuity and common sense, and there is no Royal way"

That's our best kids — you take it from here. Good luck—God bless you and we hope you may always be an LK customer.

BOB MORRISON

Soon it will be no more, the beams torn down,
 The bricks removed, the doors and windows gone;
 And last of all they'll take away the steps.
 Old Central Junior High will then be gone.
 For us the only steps, the only door
 To enter again will be our memories.

How we shall miss it, for it played a part
 In many lives. It will seem strange at first
 To see another building in its place.
 Oh, there will be a sense of lonesomeness,
 Almost of pain because the old, familiar
 Things are gone.

But Time is our kind friend,
 For she will slowly heal our sense of loss,
 And Time will gently be our sure reminder
 That life is growth, and growth is constant change.

So we must leave the old to live the new,
 Keeping within our hearts the best of what is gone.

Lucile Foreman
